

National Days of Italian Castles, XXI° edition Saturday 11th, Sunday 12th May 2019

From north to south, from east to west: the peninsula of castles.

19 regions to be discovered and rediscovered

Every year different itineraries and a dense network of events: free guided tours, conferences and books presentations, concerts, lunches at the castle, historical reviews and exhibitions

19 regions involved with many main sites which are not just castles or towers but often entire city walls like those of L'Aquila or Vicenza or the ghost city and museum park of Craco (Basilicata) and some of the most beautiful villages in Italy like Mondavio - all animated by free guided tours, book presentations, concerts, exhibitions, conferences and much more: these are the figures, in short, of the National Day of Italian Castles 2019, reaching the 21st edition and set for Saturday 11 and Sunday 12 May 2019, organized by the Italian Institute of Castles (IIC), scientific non-profit organization founded in 1964 in Milan by Piero Gazzola whose regional offices are present in all Italian regions.

Since 21 years, May has become synonymous with the keenest tourism trends throughout the Italian peninsula. Families, foreign visitors, schools and universities can devote themselves to an intense 'two days' of discoveries of castles, fortresses, towers and other fortified architectures, without forgetting the possibility of visiting entire villages, walled cities and ramparts: this appointment for enthusiasts of history, restoration and architecture, cultural tourism is so well established that it is often sold out in many of the interested locations.

Every year the sites chosen by the IIC members in agreement with local authorities and other decision-making bodies included private owners are different from the previous ones, allowing visitors to constantly enri- ch their knowledge and spend a spring weekend even in less known places in Italy or in their own city to visit fortified architectures often not open to the public where they can discover a building and its history told by experts and scholars, browse a new book just presented, attend a conference, an exhibition or a concert, or know the state of the art of valorization and of public-private synergies.

Milestones of our civilization, these places and these architectures tell the story of a country, its socio-political transformations, the richness and diversity of its territories along with the stories of people, families and dynasties - brought to us thanks to the strenuous activity held by volunteers, students, young graduates, university professors, authors, essayists and experts, architects and restorers who personally conduct visits to sites identified with competence and passion.

The 21st National Days of Italian Castles are designed and organized, as every year, by the Istituto Italiano Castelli, a scientific non-profit organization that has been committed to safeguarding the entire historical and cultural heritage for 55 years and the enhancement of the immense heritage of castles, fortresses and architectural buildings. For a great celebration of the inestimable wealth of the Italian landscape.

With over 20,000 sites surveyed, photographed and studied and with a capillary organization, the non-profit organization designs and promote cultural and scientific activities all year round, including the publication of two editorial series and a specialized magazine, periodic meetings and conferences, discovery trips, a prize for the most deserving degree thesis on fortified architectures and Il Castello tells a story, a photographic competition dedicated to secondary school students. Not last, every year, numerous conferences as well as real courses of 'castleology'.

There is a constant need to spread the knowledge of these testimonies of our past, which constitute one of the foundations of our historical and cultural identity, and this can happen both by highlighting its importance in public opinion and by stimulating the new generations to a better understanding of this extraordinary, fascinating and suggestive patrimony, whose consistency is second only to that of religious architecture.

It's true, today there is a strong excitement and interest from the institutions and the civil world around castles and fortified villages, but it must be remembered that the IIC began to deal with them since 1964, recognizing the importance of their protection and enhancement and their extraordinary potential in the life of our country when very few, if any, had looked at them least.

Strengthened by its history and its constant commitment to architectural and landscape enhancement, the IIC has also obtained for this edition (as for the previous ones) of the National Days of Italian Castles the patronage of the Italian Ministry of Cultural Heritage and Activities and Tourism (MI-BACT).

The fortified architectures are the second national asset after the religious ones: inestimable architectural and cultural heritage, they're open once a year with free events and guided tours to accelerate or promote territorial development

Fabio Pignatelli della Leonessa, architect, President of Istituto Italiano Castelli: 'Every year we try to show places hidden or never seen, or to rediscover them with new eyes: we inaugurate restructured architectures or try to repopulate sites related to the current history of our country. Also this year we reread the Italian current affairs through fortified architectures and in fact we propose to rediscover a critical territory for the recent earthquakes but full of potentialities like that of Abruzzo, after last year we turned the spotlight on the earthquake lands of the Marches. We invite you to visit, in particular, the walls of L'Aquila city.

Going on to discover our events roster in the Central Italy, we will open the Umbrian Castle of Montecolognola (Magione, Perugia), and activate the extraordinary village and fortress of Mondavio (Marche). We will also animate the Fortezza da Basso (Florence) and the Castle of Monfestino (Serramazzoni, Modena).

From the Castle of Santa Severa in Lazio, we descend to the south where we will explore lesser-known territories thanks to the activation of the Marzano Castle of Sessa Aurunca (Caserta). In addition to the richness of fortified Molise architectures (where the main site activated this year is the Castello di Pescocolanciano), we invite you to discover or rediscover the Norman Castle of San Severina in Calabria, passing that of Lagopesole in Basilicata.

Sicilian volunteers and IIC members will invite you to explore two sites in two different provinces: in Messina the Castle and fortified city of Milazzo (which will be extraordinarily opening a normally closed area on May 5 with a day of study and guided tours); in Catania the Castle of Adrano.

Unveiling the events which will happen in the north of the country, we will remember the territory flogged by recent adverse weather events in Liguria, thanks to the animation of the Brown Castle of Portofino (GE) but also the towers of the Turrus project and vaste itinerary located in Piedmont region, the Castle Masegra in Sondrio, the Castello d'Arcano in Udine, the Castle Noarna in Trento. And the city walls of Vicenza.

Sardinia will open the doors of the medieval castle of Sanluri and many others will be the side events that are added to the main ones throughout Italy, often in castles owned by private individuals or families.

The fate of each castle is different from that of the noble palaces that were always located in the city center and for the most part have survived the events remaining intact. The fortifications, precisely because of their historic defensive and offensive function, are on the edge: in the mountains or in the hills. For this reason, most of them have been abandoned, destroyed by wars, or even by wicked architectural projects. Very rarely they are inhabited because living in a fortification, as well as being inconvenient, is too expensive. In the most fortunate cases they have been reconverted to accommodation facilities, or have been restored to be returned to the public, but many continue to be closed: the Castles Days therefore give the time to discover and appreciate them, perhaps taking advantage to build different itineraries in unknown and wonderful corners of our country to which otherwise we would not have thought.

With over 1400 members and a headquarter in every Italian region, we take care of an often unrecognized heritage and are unique in the Italian non profit landscape for longevity and for the quality of the represented interests.

We do not perform them only with the more challenging appointment of the year to be organized - the Days are the result of an incredible teamwork of volunteers and enthusiasts, scholars and teachers - but also through the careful and daily relationship with local authorities, Ministries and other stakeholders to also help in understanding the 'needs' of these particular architectures of which our country is the richest in the world. And the less sensitive to valorization.

We are working, together with other non profits and NGOs also dealing with heritage to try to lighten the tax burden on these architectures and above all to study how to stack these assets that have spaces so special for their function - now lost and therefore difficult to be classified in the tax schemes for properties.

PRESSRELEASE UNDERCOVER

We look for the collaboration with other parts active in this sector, even though each one with its precise identity, in order to engage in projects of common interest.'

List of main events region by region (in alphabetical order)

Abruzzo: cinta muraria de l'Aquila (walls of the city of L'Aquila)

The walls of L'Aquila constitute the ancient circle of the city and represent the boundary of its historic center.

Built starting from the XIII century, and still largely preserved today, they maintain almost the original shape despite numerous modifications due to collapses (caused by frequent earthquakes) and urban demolition. They extend for over 5.5 km incorporating an area of about 157 hectares destined to contain tens of thousands of inhabitants. In the European Year of Cultural Heritage, a restoration, consolidation and enhancement of the city walls has been started (and is almost finished) which also involves the construction of walkways in some sections, financed with 8 million euros of European funds.

Basilicata: Castle of Craco

<http://www.cracomuseum.eu>

Guided tours: May 11

Conference: "Il castello e il Borgo, tra Storia e Resilienza", May 11, 10 am Monastero di S. Pietro.

Those looking for places to visit in Basilicata, find in Craco one of the most fascinating and suggestive destinations, a unique place that combines art, history, landscape but also drama. Terra di Cinema, incubator of Art, Culture, Research and Innovation, immersed in the gullies, in the heart of Basilicata!

When the fief of Craco, belonging to Erberto, is reported in the Catalogus baronum compiled between 1161 and 1167, a fort was to have been built. In 1239, by order of Frederick II, Goffredo di Craco took over the Lombard prisoners who were locked up in the tower. From the 14th century Craco is included in the feudal state of the Sanseverino, who have practiced their domain for about two centuries. In 1735 the castle, almost completely uninhabitable due to neglect and abandonment, belongs to the duke Francesco Vergara. Subsequently, after having been sent to the Maronna family, it passed to the Municipality of Craco, which in the 30s of the 20th century placed a water reservoir there. The tower has a square plant with sides of 10 meters and a total height of about 20 m. The wall thickness is 2 m. Originally it was served by a wooden staircase that allowed the connection between a series of rooms and lofts whose traces are still visible from the external walls.

For the National Days of Italian Castles 2019, the IIC section of Basilicata region has chosen to highlight the Craco Tower.

It is belonging to a Middle Age dwelling compound which has been abandoned due to a landslide after the earthquake of 1980. Nevertheless the abandonment, Craco remained intact and became a ghost village. On 2010, it has been inserted in the heritage list of monuments to preserve, compiled by

World Monuments Fund.

Beside the main site of visits, IIC Basilicata section will open the doors of other castles with guided tours and in-depth studies with the following calendar:

Guided tour (also with multilingual audio-guides): May 11 - 12 (9-12 am / 3.30-7 pm)

The Norman castle of Santa Severina, called Carafa or Roberto il Guiscardo, the Norman king who ordered its edification in the 11th century, is considered one of the best preserved ancient fortresses in southern Italy.

The imposing structure extends for about 10,000 m<sup>2</sup> and dominates the wide valley of the river Neto and the hills of the Marquisate of Crotona. It is composed of a square keep and four cylindrical towers on the sides of the castle; it is also flanked by four protruding ramparts at the towers.

Its structure, its complex basements and imposing towers make the castle a typical example of military architecture.

Campania: Marzano Castle of Sessa Aurunca (CE)

Coordinates: 41 ° 23'15.13 "N 13 ° 15'58.17" E

Guided tours: 11 - 12 May (10 am- 1 pm)

The castle stands on the ancient acropolis at the end of the town in a dominant position over the entire territory and on the underlying medieval settlement, still rich in Roman traces.

Located at the top of a tufaceous hill, it faces north on the traditional Market square. Even today it shows the function of an elegant feudal residence, acquired at the end of the 14th century, when it was transformed into the Palazzo Ducale.

Built in the 10th century, the castrum plays the defensive function but is also home to the Curia.

During the National Days of Italian Castles, in addition to guided tours, historical re-enactments and a round table on the Castles in Terra di Lavoro will be held.

Emilia Romagna: Castle of Monfestino (Serramazzoni, Modena)

Guided tours (in groups of 15, first come first served: June 22 and 23 (10-12-30; 15-17.30) POSTPONED DUE TO ADVERSE WEATHER CONDITIONS AND 60 CM of SNOW

The history of Monfestino is linked to its castle of which there is no certain information regarding the era of construction. Undoubtedly the oldest part of the fortress, which in ancient times was presented with a high square tower surrounded by massive walls, was to constitute an outpost of the Castro Ferroniano defensive barrier which delayed the penetration of the Lombards into the territory of about two hundred years.

Monfestino was ruled first by the Da Savignano, then, from 1401, by the Ferraresi Contrari who received the feudal investiture - with that of Vignola and Savignano - by Nicolò III d'Este, and finally was sold by the Duke of Ferrara in 1577 to Boncompagni family who held it until 1796.

The castle is privately owned.

The Corni family, owner since 1901, has carried out an important restoration work, bringing the fortress back to its former glory after the degradation in which it had fallen in the last century. Walking through a green path you can admire the towers and the mighty walls. Late medieval, it is surrounded by a solid city wall interspersed with cylindrical towers of fifteenth-century origin, built by the opposites, feudal lords of Vignola and lords of these places. Continuing you have the opportunity to wander with the eye from the highest peaks of the Apennines to the white glaciers of the Alps. In the darkness of the night you can see the plain below illuminated by a myriad of lights.

In addition to the extraordinary opening of the village and the free guided tours, during the National Days of Italian Castles it will be possible to visit the village market, the food stands, art exhibitions (with drawings by Lorenzo Confortini and others), and to attend - on Saturday May 11 - a study on the history of the site edited by Mario Toni (3.00pm-4.30pm); on Sunday May 12 from 3pm to 4.30pm a study on XV and XVI Cent. weapons and the defense system of the fortresses by Massimiliano Righini and Achille Ludovisi. At 17.30 Mr Lorenzo Confortini will hold a presentation of his book Towers, Castles and cities in the lands of Modena. Collection of views drawn in the old way.

Friuli Venezia Giulia: D'Arcano Castle (Rive d'Arcano, UD)

Location Arcano Superiore, 11 / C

Extraordinary opening and event: Sunday, May 12, 2019

The current castle complex was built in the 13th century on earlier fortified structures, perhaps of the 10th century. The Emperor Otto II, in 1161, for the services rendered, invested a certain "Leonardo" of a land on the hills near the course of the river Corno. Leonardo, originally from Passau, city of Bavaria, belonged, according to tradition, to the royal family of Croatia, hence the use of the scaccato in the family crest. He built a first fortified residence on the ridge of the banks of the Corno and called himself "Leonardo di Corno". The d'Arcano acquired various positions at the Patriarchs of Aquileia; they were marescalchi and gonfalonieri hereditary of the patriarchate of Aquileia. The complex was also known as "Castello di Tricano" for the three dogs present in the coat of arms of the feudatory family of the d'Arcano. The current castle located on a natural hill placed next to the hill of Fratta, dominates the entire esplanade towards San Daniele, protected by massive walls and a gatehouse, in front of which there was a moat fed by water in part source of the near river, and there was a drawbridge to access inside the first courtyard through the gate tower that rises for a dozen meters. On this stand out the coat of arms of the family.

The Castle is privately owned, the current owner is Paolo Tedesco. During the extraordinary openings for the National Castles Days, there will be a commemorative conference dedicated to the Engineer Domenico Taverna, the previous owner and partner of the Istituto Italiano Castelli Friuli Section, the book presentation and the tasting of typical products of the "Castello d' Arcano" and other cultural activities.

Lazio: Castle of Santa Severa

SS1 Via Aurelia, Km 52,600,
00058 - Santa Marinella

The Castle of Santa Severa, is one of the most evocative places of the Lazio region, located along the Tyrrhenian coast north of Rome, is a heritage of inestimable value both historical and cultural.

The Castle owes its current name to the young Christian martyr Severa, who tradition recalls killed on June 5, 298 AD. in this place together with his brothers, Calendino and Marco, under the empire of Diocletian.

The Early Christian Church was dedicated to her, dating from the second half of the fifth century or the early decades of the sixth century, found in the modern era and currently visible, in part, in the Piazza della Rocca.

This area, which has its origins in ancient times, the first discoveries are already from the Bronze Age when the populations settled thanks to the presence of numerous courses and freshwater springs.

In the seventh century A. C. Pyrgi was built between the most important sea ports of the whole Etruria only 13Km away from the powerful Caere, then Cerveteri, of which it was the main port.

The Etruscan settlement then became the seat, first half of the third century, of a Roman colony (castrum) whose remains are present in the fortification walls. The side facing the sea, however, is only visible in the cellars of the "woodshed" room.

The area still undergoes a metamorphosis in the Imperial age that from a military camp became a residence of wealthy Roman families who owned luxurious seaside villas.

On the remains of the buildings of the Roman and Late Antiquity a vast cemetery extends, starting from at least the ninth century and presumably used until the XIII-XIV century.

The structure of the real Castle, however, is only from the 14th century.

After a long period of decadence in recent times, the castle was also used by the Germans as a strategic base during the Second World War.

A brief overview of a long historical route that covers over 2000 years of history and which leads us to a more recent age when the Castle became the property of the Local Health Authority, following the passage of the hospital orders to the latter, and currently the Lazio Region, which since 2014 initiated the summer reopening (April-October) to allow the community to enjoy this extraordinary heritage suspended between legend and reality.

Liguria: Castello Brown (Portofino)

Coordinates: 44 °18'07.53 "N 9 ° 12'51.7" E

The Brown Castle of Portofino (Portus Delphini), used for cultural events and ceremonies, has maintained the typicality of an ancient defensive castle facing the sea, both for its strategic position on a promontory and for the structure of the building itself. Its stories start from far away. Archaeological excavations and studies on the site have attested to the remains of Roman times belonging to the II or III century AD, whose position led to the conclusion that it was a sighting tower. Starting from these findings, one is led to think that a more complex castle was built around the tenth century.

This post has had many vicissitudes in history. After the domination of the Visconti family in 1425, the castle was reconquered with determination by Tommaso Fregoso, who proceeded to occupy Portofino. Naturally, it changed its layout because the turret, completed by a wall with crenellations and a cistern, was used as a dwelling in addition to maintaining a fundamental function of sighting and defense.

Around 1430 the building had returned under the Genoese dominion by Francesco Spinola. (...) In 1500 it seems that the traditional and simple structure has evolved, being expanded with a battery, with a turret and with a further construction positioned a short distance away. (...)

In 1700 there were other changes according to the needs of the time: work of strengthening took place around 1728 with the restoration of the walls and the replacement of the armament, following the evolution of the times. In 1746 an offensive to the castle was thwarted by an Anglo-Austro-Sardinian garrison. Cardinal Richelieu ordered in turn that a garrison would oppose and control what was happening in the village and on the gulf. When Napoleon conquered Liguria, the castle also passed under the French. (...)

After the Congress of Vienna, which took place in 1815, which marked a new set-up and a decisive turning point in history, Portofino also first passed to the Kingdom of Sardinia and then to the Kingdom of Italy (March 17, 1861). For the castle arrived moments far from the past because he saw the important function that had always had to decline.

The British Consul in Genoa Montague Yeats Brown changed the fate of this extraordinary construction again. In love with the Ligurian coast, while he was admiring once more the beauty of the places from his imposing boat, Black Tulip, observed the ancient building, he saw a splendid nature around and the whole pleased him so much that he bought it for himself and for his wife. Weapons and cannons disappeared and the castle was used for housing, while maintaining, as far as possible, its original structure, as confirmed by the baron Munn. In the midst of the fragrance of the Portinesi perfumes, the couple swore eternal love. As a symbol of their union, Montague had the wedding day planted, two pines next to each other, right on the parade ground, at the top and on the lookout, where the landscape bound to infinity, as a symbol of the strength of a sincere feeling. Furnished the mansion with antique furniture, elegant, adequate and tasteful. The garden became a melting pot of rare and beautiful plants. The Baber spouses, who followed the Browns, maintained the traditional style of the mansion. In 1961 Castello Brown was acquired by the Municipality of Portofino.

Lombardy:

Main event - Castello Masegra (Sondrio)

Guided tours: Saturday 11 and Sunday 12 May 2019 (9-12 am; 2-6 pm)

The Masegra castle, located on the first slope of the Rhaetian Alps, is the only defense of the village to have survived in Sondrio. In fact, most of the defenses were dismantled in 1639, when in the Capitulate of Milan France and Spain established that the fortifications served in the previous clashes had to be demolished, followed by the temporary removal of the Grisons. It was built in 1048 by Alberto de Capitanei and demolished in 1309 and again in 1418, but has always been rebuilt by the same, feudatories of Sondrio and leaders of the Guelph party.

The castle is today owned by Sondrio Council which is due to complete the restoration and is going to set a very ambitious project on the site: to transform the XVth Cent. castle in a Museum of Alps mountains.

Collateral event - Mirabello Castle (Pavia)

extended guided tours: Saturday 25 May

This castle was built in the 14th century by the Viscontis in the center of the Visconteo Park, located north of the Castle of Pavia. It was not a defensive castle, but a place of delight for the rest and recreation during the hunt, in their vast fenced park with high brick walls, at the northern end of which the Certosa di Pavia was built, as court chapel for the burial of the Visconti.

The visit to this Castle is focused on the historical event in which the Castle was involved, the famous battle of Pavia in 1525, between the army of the French king Francis I and the imperial army of Charles V. Francis I, as it is known, it was unseated and taken prisoner by the imperials near the Cascina Repentita where, wounded and battered, it was refreshed with what would become the famous "Pavese Soup", a simple poor soup to which they were added at the time, for the sovereign , two eggs and some cheese from the local farmers.

Organization of the visit:

- 10.30 - visit to the Castle of Mirabello and its historical context;
- 12.00 - visit to the Cascina Re-pentita and the remains of the walls of the Visconti Park enclosure;
- 1.00 pm - lunch in an ancient tavern where the Pavese Soup will be tasted.
- 3.30 pm - "re-visit" to the Certosa di Pavia, where the sepulchral monument of Gian Galeazzo Visconti and the two marble statues of Lodovico il Moro and Beatrice d'Este are located under the frescoes of Bergognone.

Marche: village of Mondavio (PU)

Guided tours: Saturday 11 and Sunday 12 May 2019 (9-12 am; 3-6 pm)

Mondavio is a village in the province of Pesaro-Urbino, one of the best preserved in Italy.

In a unique landscape between the green and soft hills of the Marche region, 20 km from the Adriatic Sea, it is a destination for cultural visits and cycle tourism.

His first records date back to a document of 1178 and was the capital of the Vicariate with jurisdiction over twenty-four castles, he met several domains, including that of Malatesta, Alessandro Piccolomini, Giovanni della Rovere, Lorenzo de 'Medici and the city of Fano. The Rocca fortress was built between 1482 and 1492 ca. by the will of Giovanni della Rovere, lord of Senigallia, of the Vicariate of Mondavio and son of Federico da Montefeltro, designed by the Sienese architect Francesco di Giorgio Martini, responsible and principal architect of the defensive architectural system of the Duchy of Urbino under the Montefeltro. Unanimously considered an absolute masterpiece of Renaissance military architecture, it is imposing and evocative with the powerful polygonal masonry with eight irregular uneven faces, connected with the abutment turret and a semi-elliptical reinforcement tower that rise above the deep moat. The brilliant architectural complex constituted an impregnable fortress, a defensive weapon for a border territory on which history has left profound signs and never having suffered attacks or sieges has come to us still in excellent condition.

The internal rooms still retain, for the most part, the original plan and are currently used as exhibition spaces, in fact the Rocca houses the Museum of Historical Reenactment and the Armory with an exhibition of armor, white weapons and firearms, mainly of the period Della Rovere. In the moat there are no war machines (catapults and mobile towers) faithfully reconstructed on the basis of the same drawings by Francesco di Giorgio Martini.

Little gem to visit the Apollo Theater, one of over seventy of the one hundred and forty surveyed in the Marches in 1868. Of late eighteenth century origin was taken from the former church of San Filippo Neri and then renewed in its very elongated U plan in 1887. A recent restoration he has recovered and restored the elegance of the decorations on balustrades and on the vault where festive cherubs dance in a circle around Apollo.

Molise:

Main site: Castle of Pescolanciano (IS)

Saturday May 11, 2019, from 10 am:

Conference day on the castle plus harp concert performed by the artist Tosca Tavaniello, inauguration of the 'Castle Castles Museum', guided tour of the ancient residence .

Free guided tours:

May 11, 4-5-6 pm (one group per hour)

May 12: 010-11-12 am – (one group per hour) - Info +39 329.1266952

The d'Alessandro were the inhabitants and the most important owners of the castle, but among its walls alternated with other illustrious figures in the domain of a vast territory. From the Catalogus Baronum we know that, in the first half of the twelfth century, around 1140, Pesclum Lanzasum was held in fief by the Norman baron Berardo de Calvello (ie Carovilli) who also held Vinalim, Pesclam Corvaram (Pescocorvaro near Miranda), Cornaclinum (La Conocchia d'Isernia) and Carovilli himself on behalf of Jollem di Castro Pineano who, in turn, was a feudatory of Ugo II count of Molise. Of Pescolanciano were also Theodino di Peschio, who was executioner at the time of Federico II, and Ruggero di Pescolanciano who, according to Capecelatro, was sent by Federico himself to demolish the fortifications of Isernia and Carpinone. The fiefdom passed to the d'Evoli who held it until the arrival of the Angevins, when it belonged to the Carafa della Spina family.

Piedmont: Barbaresco and the Towers of the Turris project

Erected with a quadrangular trunk is the great tower of Barbaresco, which overlooks the panoramic views of the Tanaro valley. Its specificity, only recently detected, is that very rare, concerning its external brick wall structure that contains another pre-existing, less elevated and filled with earth and rubble, in function of solid basement. The tower is attested at the end of the twelfth century ("castrum cum turri" in documents dating 1191 and 1198); it is the subject of interventions in 1222 ("laboreria" ordered by the mayor of Alba), after the sale of the bar-baroque fiefdom to the Municipality of Alba. It has a base of about 9 meters on each side and shows an interesting arrangement of pontoon holes, which pass from alignments of 3 (in the base sector) to 4 and 5 (at the top). You can still see some residual traces of the attacking sawtooth crowning frame.

The 12 Towers of the Turris project include a circuit of about 199 km - 4 hours and 34 minutes by car, which in addition to Barbaresco are located in the sites of Santo Stefano, Corneliano d'Alba and Santa Vittoria d'Alba.

Puglia: Castle of Gioia del Colle

The Castle (XI-XIV century) rises in the historical center: it has a quadrangular plan with the sides facing the four cardinal points, central courtyard and two quadrilateral towers that protrude at the two ends of the south side, Torre dei Rossi and Torre dell 'Empress. The most significant aspect of the Federician intervention is the happy syncretism between western culture and oriental art still present in the access stairway to the upper floor, in the indentation of the ogival arch and in the refined carvings of the reconstructed throne and fireplace. from the Pantaleo in 1909.

The Norman core is made up of the mighty Rossi tower, named after the family that established their residence there. The masonry wall of the castle consists of three types of wall structures that report three different eras of construction: limestone blocks on the north and north-east curtain, bosses in red local carparo trunk with the exception of the blocks at the corners on the tower of the Empress, rectangular little bosses protruding over the rest of the building ..

Founded by Riccardo Siniscalco son of Drogone d'Altavilla and brother of Roberto, on a pre-existing Byzantine fortress in the early twelfth century, enlarged by Roger II, the castle was rebuilt by Frederick II in 1230 when he returned from the crusade in the Holy Land.

The manor originally made up of a central atrium and four corner towers, of which there are still two called the Rossi tower and the Empress's tower, was taken care of in every detail and adapted to the new modus vivendi of Federico.

At the beginning of the twentieth century it was bought by the Marquis Orazio De Luca Resta in conditions of deplorable abandonment and entrusted to the architect Pantaleo who took care of the much discussed restoration, following which he was accused of "having very restored and little preserved". Following collapses and abandonment, the castle was further restored in 1973. Currently owned by the Ministry for Cultural Heritage, it is part of the Bari Museum Complex and includes, in addition to some exhibition rooms, the interesting Archaeological Museum of Monte Sannace.

Castle/Fortress of Milazzo also a fenced city

GUIDED TOURS AND EVENTS:

MAY 5 FROM 10 AM TO 2 PM

The fortress, and all the area included in the large enclosure of the Spanish walls (walled city and ancient village), managed by the municipality, constitutes the largest fortified citadel existing in Sicily with an area of 7 hectares and over 12,000 m<sup>2</sup> occupied by buildings. It stands on the southern top of the Capo Milazzo peninsula and overlooks the ancient village. The set of artifacts and defensive systems constitute the "Cittadella Fortificata", otherwise known as the Walled City, whose main residential areas that compose it are located close to the steep north-western walls of the relief.

The artifacts in chronological order follow a pyramidal and concentric development downwards, at the top there is the oldest part and gradually downwards and sloping towards the outside to the east, the various overlaps identifiable in the architectural styles typical of the various dominations . The Necropolis and the areas that make up the agglomeration or the castrums are located in the lowland areas of the Citadel.

Among the various dominations there are the Greek, Roman, Byzantine, Norman, Swabian, Aragonese, Spanish; but it was also an Austrian, German and English stronghold.

In the XI-XII the dungeon was built, a fortified perimeter; in the 13th century the plant of the Swabian castle with turreted walls; the XV sees the strengthening with a wall with semi-cylindrical bastions, and in 1603 begins the construction of the old Mother Church.

In 1860 it was the scene of the last Bourbon resistance to the advance of Garibaldi troops, in fact with the advent of the Kingdom of Italy the city lost its strategic-military importance and in 1880 the castle was downgraded from a royal fortress to a judicial prison.

The castle has a very articulated iconographic layout: a Norman male with a square plan and the domus are enclosed by the rectangular Swabian belt; a second Aragonese wall with cylindrical bulwarks encloses the Norman-Swabian complex. A third 16th century wall was built with triangular ramparts.

The keep is called the 'Torre Seracena' commune, located at the top of the castle and is the oldest part of the complex. The domus instead has markedly residential characteristics. The walls that enclose them follow the triangular top of the rocky ridge; four square towers defend the corners of this fence. The fifteenth-century city walls are located a short distance from the first. The last curtain wall was built in the sixteenth century.

Exhibition Point: Ceremony for the delivery of the ten multilingual signage panels of the castle, from the President of the Lions Club Milazzo, Avv. Giovanni Siracusa and from Dr. Massimo Tricamo, President of the Milazzese Society of National History, to the Mayor of Milazzo Avv. Formica, in the presence of representatives of the Sicilian Region or of the Soprintendenza.

Castle of Adrano (CT)

Guided tours: Saturday May 11, 2019

Like the nearby castle of Paternò, according to a well-established historiographical tradition, the castle of Adrano was founded in the third decade of the Eleventh Century by the Grand Count Ruggero on the occasion of the conquest of Sicily occupied by Muslims, perhaps on the pre-existing structures of a Saracen tower.

In fact, the castle presents the typical form of the donjon or of a parallelepiped tower divided into different rooms for each of the floors, connected vertically by narrow stairways built into the wall thickness.

Belonging to the De Parisio family, in 1185 it was inherited by Matteo Sclafani because of marriage - he becoming a baron of Adrano. Frederick of Aragon (Frederick III as King of Sicily) in 1303 appointed Matteo Sclafani count of Adrano himself. To the latter he must probably, on the occasion of his wedding, the construction of the chapel inside the dungeon.

In the Sixteenth or Seventeenth Century, at the base of the castle were placed four small and low angular towers that somehow recall those made by Alfonso D'Aragona in the falsabraga of the Maschio Angioino. Originally isolated, these towers were joined by four walls in the Eighteenth Century, when the castle, after losing its military functions and feudal residence, still kept those in prison.

Of municipal property, the castle is now home to the civic museum, with an important archaeological section.

Tuscany: Fortezza da Basso (FI)

Free guided tours (rsvp mandatory): May 11 (10-12 am; 4-6 pm)

The fortress of San Giovanni Battista or Fortezza da Basso is a modern fortification in the walls of Florence. Founded with the name of Castello Alessandria, it was built by Pier Francesco da Viterbo and Antonio da Sangallo the Younger between 1534 and 1537 by order of Alessandro de 'Medici. In May 1533 the excavations supervised by Alessandro Vitelli and the architect Pier Francesco da Viterbo began. On 15 July 1534 the first stone was laid and in December of the same year the works of fortification were completed in large part.

The Fortezza da Basso in Florence is adapting itself to the actual times: besides commercial activities, it hosts great local historical tradition such as the building occupied by the Opificio delle Pietre Dure and the annual handicraft exhibition.

The visit, limited to the recently restored monumental part, will include explanations on the history of the building and technical information on the construction type.

Located on a hillock of Mount Stivo on the northern outskirts of the village of Noarna, the fortification dominates the valley floor in a strategic position. Originally in the possession of the de Castro Novo family, whose members are mentioned in the 12th-13th century sources, his first mention dates back to 1234 when, being a protagonist in the struggles between the bishop and the Ghibelline party in Val Lagarina, it was besieged and conquered. The document is particularly important for the attestation of the existence of a war machine erected against the bishop's forces: the trabuchum, which determined the order of destruction of the manor. It is not clear, at the current state of research, if this happened; the castle did not have to be completely dismantled, however, since it is often mentioned several times in the following centuries. The complex is very articulated and covers a large surface: defensive perimeters and buildings are set, at different altitudes, following the slope of the hill to reach the highest point where the tower stands. It is enclosed within a first enclosure, partially obliterated by subsequent interventions of the mid-fifteenth century that transformed the existing structures into the monumental residence of the Lodron family. It is currently owned by the Zani family.

Umbria: Castle of Montecolognola (PG)

Free guided tours: May 11, Saturday, 2019 (10–12,30 am/3,30–5 pm)

Montecolognola, located at 400 m. above sea level overlooking the lake Trasimeno, is one of the most scenic castles of the entire territory. Its toponym, derived from the Latin terms mons, monte, and small colony (coloniola), farm, refers to Roman origins, also proven traces of a site of a Roman villa that are on the western side of the hill, but , in its current form, the castle was born from a first settlement of the servants of the great Gerosolimitano hospital of San Giovanni di Pian del Carpine (now Magione) which, in the fifties of the century. XIII had bought from the bishop of Perugia the land on top of the hill and had built an oratory and houses, thus escaping the yoke of the Knights.

This community continued to be the political and administrative center of the area until the middle of the seventeenth century, when Magione regained importance and autonomy. The administrative decadence determined a block of the constructive activities and that is why Montecolognola keeps almost intact the medieval urban structure, with the boundary wall at the entrance doors, in limestone with terracotta inserts. From the architectonic point of view, Montecolognola presents itself as a castle with an ellipsoidal plan and a rectangular layout, with houses and streets distributed parallel to the main axis. The five perimeter bastions and the two gates, one to the north, called Porta Nuova or Porta Fiorentina, and the main entrance facing south, powerfully equipped and with traces of a drawbridge, are of considerable grandeur and beauty.

Inside the village is the parish church of Santa Maria Annunziata, of the fourteenth century that contains inside fresco of the Annunciation to Mary and Adoration of the Magi of the Umbrian school of the first quarter of the sixteenth century in addition to a Futurist Landscape (tempera on plaster) of Gerardo Dottori realized, in 1949, in the chapel of Saint Lucia.

Saturday, May 11 at 16.00 the art critic prof. Massimo Duranti will hold a conference, open to the public, in the church of the village of Montecolognola on "Dottori and the mural painting in Montecolognola", aimed at the restoration of the fresco by Gerardo Dottori which is located in the chapel of St. Lucia of the same church.

Veneto: THE WALLS OF VICENZA: from the Torrione di Porta Castello to the Castle of Rocchetta

Guided tours: May 11 and 12

Conference: May 11 and 12 (from 10 am)

Le Mura di Vicenza e l'acqua

Vicenza - Palazzo Chiericati

The walls of Vicenza surround the city, conditioned by the particular morphology of the ground and by the intertwining of the various rivers, which make the urban plan take on an articulated planimetric development.

The fortified works begin with the ecclesiastical and secular authorities (X-XII centuries) in the municipal era (1147-1236), under the dominion of Ezzelino (1236-1259) then that of Padua (1264-1311) and then of the Scaligeri (1311-1387) and then continued in the fifteenth century in the Venetian period.

Torrione of Porta Castello, Vicenza

According to the chronicles of Giambattista Paglierini, once settled in Vicenza, Ezzelino da Romano had built a tall and robust tower in 1236, close to the crenellated walls placed to defend the western extremity of the city decumanus.

More likely, the "tyrant" merely fortified an old confiscated tower house further.

Castle of the Rocchetta, Vicenza

The construction of the Rocchetta castle is part of a complex and organic plan, designed by Scaligeri (now at the end of their fortunes), aimed at widening and strengthening the defenses of the city of Vicenza, and implemented over the years between 1365 and the beginnings of the ninth decade of the 300th.

The reporter Conforto da Costoza reports the Rocchetta as started in 1381.
